4PM has been managing public and private industry projects for over 15 years. The corporate headquarters of Inter-Metro Freight, Inc. is located in Elizabeth, New Jersey near the port facilities there. They also work out of the Savannah, Georgia port and have assimilated a large tract of land very near the entrance of the Savannah Port entrance. They are developing a Class A Office Building to house their own logistics team as well as provide Class A office space to several other trucking firms who utilize their logistics site for their Savannah port activities. The Inter-Metro Savannah, Georgia office construction project is an example of private industry relying on 4PM's construction management experience. The Inter-Metro corporate office in New Jersey sought a Georgia company to monitor the construction of the company's new office building to ensure that monthly construction progress stays on track and that construction pay applications are consistent with the percentage of work completed.
